SUNDAY-SCHOOL EXCURSION.

A Chance for the Children to See the Sights in Cincinnati.

Dr. U. V. Williams, Superintendent of the Baptist Sunday school, is taking the lead in getting up a Sunday-school excursion to Cincinnati, similar to the one run last year, which carried something over six hundred Sunday-school pupils and teachers to and from Cincinnati, on the street cars to and from the Zoological Garden, into the garden, and gave them the whole day's pleasure for $1 each.

Dr. Williams is in correspondence with the railroads now, and hopes to arrange it so that the price for the present trip will be as little or less than that of last year. The objective point this year will be the "Lagoon," the newest thing in Cincinnati or any western city. The Doctor proposes to so arrange the excursion that it will carry every Sunday-school pupil of every church in Frankfort and Franklin county, and hopes that the railroads and all citizens will lend every possible aid to the enterprise, and make even a greater success than the event of last year.

Messrs. Harper and Bercaw, of the Kentucky Midland Railway, are making the arrangements, and will have them completed by our next issue, when due announcement will be given.

A Model Pastor.

The Courier-Journal says: Gen. Green Clay Smith, who went from Kentucky to become pastor of the Metropolitan Baptist Church at Washington City, is making a success as a Capital pastor. He now has a new house of worship. It is his custom at his services to receive the contribution boxes from the collectors, and, standing before the congregation, ask God to accept and bless the gifts of His people. Another Baptist preacher who practices this plan recently received a letter containing one dollar, with the explanation that the writer had put in a nickle, but when the pastor prayed he felt so ashamed that he sent the dollar.

Gen. Smith has recently been quite ill, but is improving.

Shake Up at The F. M. I.

The Board of Commissioners of the Feeble-minded Institute held a meeting Wednesday afternoon and elected the employees of the institution for the ensuing year—making several changes. Misses Emily H. Woods, Minnie A. Bell and Sallie Chinn, of this city, and Miss Camilla Baskett, of Shelby county, were elected teachers—the first two being re-elected and the last two elected in the place of Miss Cecil, who was not an applicant, and Mrs. Belle M. Hogan, removed. Miss Chinn had been a teacher in the school for years but lost her place at the election last year. Mrs. Hogan had also been teaching in the school for years, is a widow and has an aged widowed mother to take care of.

Capt. Henry Wilson, who for years was the engineer at the institution but lost his place at the last election, was again elected to the same position, supplanting Mr. T. M. Ponder, who was the successful candidate last year and removed his family here from La Grange when chosen to fill the position.

These are but examples of the uncertainty of the foundation upon which one stands who is filling a position more of less controlled by politics. When a place is wanted for a friend the occupant in the way has to go, regardless of age, sex or condition.

Col. Bain To-morrow Evening.

Col. George W. Bain, of Lexington, the prince of talkers upon the American platform of to-day, will address a union meeting of all the congregations of the city at the First Presbyterian Church, to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock. His subject will be "Safe Side of Life for Young Men," and every young man in the city should be sure to go and hear him, for he will not only entertain but instruct everyone in his audience. Mr. Bain is so well-known to the people of this community, where he has addressed crowded houses in years past, that the mere announcement that he is to speak will insure him a large audience.

How Holt Lost His Holt.

Collector Shelby, last week, demanded the resignation of Mr. J. Harry Holt, of Paris, who has been serving very acceptably as Division Deputy Collector in this district for the past two years, which Mr. Holt refused to tender unless charges were preferred against him, whereupon his commission was revoked by the Collector and Mr. Desha Breckinridge appointed in his place. Mr. Breckinridge was appointed Deputy Collector under the income tax law and when the Supreme Court decided the income tax unconstitutional he was left without a job and had to be provided for.

Called to Versailles.

Rev. W. B. Taylor, who has been pastor pro tem. of the Christian Church in this city during the absence of Rev. George Darsie in Europe, has received and accepted a call to become the pastor of the Christian Church in Versailles. He will take pastoral charge of the church next month.

The Ladies.

The pleasant effect and perfect safety with which ladies may use the California liquid laxative, Syrup of Figs, under all conditions, makes it their favorite remedy. To get the true and genuine article, look for the name of the California Fig Syrup Co., printed near the bottom of the package.

Examination of Teachers.

Examination of applicants for positions as teachers in the public schools will be held on June 20, 21 and 22 at white school building.

All applicants not holding first-class certificates in the grade of work to which they aspire, will require examination.

All new applicants not holding duly accredited certificates from the Board of Examiners of Frankfort Board of Education will be required to take the entire graded course of study in their examinations.

All applicants for position in the high school will be required to take the high school course examination, and be expected to, as in the graded school, obtain first-class certificates in the work assigned to them.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

A Vacancy From the Third Ward.

The regular meeting of the City Council was held Tuesday night, at which the City Marshall's report was filed, showing that $205 in fines were collected for the month of May. Sayre Spring in South Frankfort was put in the hands of the water committee for repair.

The ordinance authorizing the Postal Telegraph Company to erect poles and wires on the streets and alleys of Frankfort was unanimously passed, the company to accept the ordinance in 30 days or it will be void.

The ordinance creating the office of manager of the City Hall was given its final passage.

A motion to suspend the collection of the city's part of the fine assessed against Brady's band for playing on Sunday was adopted. Councilman Miles thought the proceeding unconstitutional and served notice that he would test the matter in the courts.

Councilman Heffner, who has been made manager of the Opera House, presented his resignation, which was accepted. On being called upon for a speech Mr. Heffner briefly responded: "I am sorry to leave you."

The council adjourned until Tuesday evening, the 25th inst.

Sales on our market for the week just closed amount to 3,866 hds., with receipts for the same period of 3,002 hds.

Sales on our market since January 1st amount to 90,126 hds. Sales of the crop of 1894 on our market to this date amount to 91,944 hds.

We had a very active market throughout this week for all grades of burley tobacco, the improvement reported last week being maintained, and no further advance is quotable.

During the early part of this week, good transplanting seasons were had throughout the greater part of the burley producing sections followed by favorable weather conditions, and from the best information which we can gather, we would estimate that 60 per cent of the intended burley crop is now on the hill.

The recent rains did not extend to the extent of furnishing good transplanting seasons in Hart county burley section.

The following quotations fairly represent our market for burley tobacco 1894 crop:

All of the above have yet to be sentenced.

All of the civil cases on the docket have been postponed until next week.

Two Fires Thursday.

About noon Thursday the old two story frame house on North St. Clair street, between Blanton and Hill streets, was discovered to be on fire and before the flames could be checked was a complete wreck. The house was the property of Mr. Sam Luscher and the loss is about five hundred dollars.

While this fire was in progress a second alarm came in, which was caused by a small blaze in the roof of the planing mill of Messrs. Wakefield & Choate, which was extinguished without much damage being done.

U. S. District Attorney Will Smith and Deputy U. S. Marshal Sam Blackburn started out Thursday afternoon for a bicycle ride, after the adjournment of court. Can't Be Done.

Editor Roundabout:

The constant and indefatigable practice and purpose of the present City Council to bestow upon one of its members a position of pay and profit has not been more remarkable than its apparent ignorance of the charter under which it is acting. Councilman Heffner was put in charge of the Opera House and, as I learn from a member of the Council, he was paid, or is to be paid, a salary of three dollars per day for his services.

More than that, the revenues from the Opera House were not turned into the Treasury, but when collected by him were expended direct for such things as the Committee directed. This practice cannot be too severely condemned.

Since Manager, Councilman Heffner's resignation, we understand it is proposed to elect him to the new office of Manager of the Opera House, apparently created for him.

This cannot be done. I call the attention of the Council to the following provision of the charter of third class cities:

Section 19. No Councilman shall be eligible to any other city office during that period for which he was elected."

This is clear, explicit and needs no calcium light to show its lines.

PLANTS.

I am prepared to supply a fine quality of Cabbage, Tomato and Pepper plants, and will have a full supply of Sweet Potato and other plants in season. Leave orders at Ellwanger's, Geo. M. Santa's and Jas. Heeney's.

L. B. MARSHALL.

Cut Flowers.

When you want cut flowers of any kind, you want them cut fresh to preserve their beauty and fragrance. Therefore Power's greenhouse is the place to get them; and he don't intend to be undersold by anyone in either cut flowers or plants. A full supply of plant will be kept at the store from now on and sold at prices that can't be beat.

Notwithstanding the advance in all kinds of leather, our prices on harness and saddles remain the same. Call and examine the largest stock ever in Frankfort.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT

Entered at the post-office at Frankfort, Kentucky, as second-class matter.

GEO. A. LEWIS, Editor and Pub.

FRANKFORT, JUNE 15, 1895.

A Good Sale.

The sale of Mr. H. R. Williams' stable on Second street, and his livery stock, took place Saturday morning, Dr. H. M. Sherman officiating as auctioneer. The stable was bought in by Mr. John T. Stout, of Alton, at four thousand dollars. The horses and colts sold at prices ranging from eight to seventy-five dollars. Considering the class of stock offered, the sale is pronounced one of the best held in this section for some time.

Took Corn Cure.

A little child of Mr. Wiley Williams got hold of a bottle of extract of Indian Hemp, Sunday afternoon, and drank part of it before being discovered. Prompt remedies were administered and the drug did the little fellow no harm. Mr. Williams was using the fluid as a corn medicine and had placed the bottle out of the reach of the child, but he climbed upon a chair and got hold of it when no one was looking.

Died at Bagdad.

An old gentleman by the name of Nunn, from Missouri, who was visiting at Bagdad, Shelby county, attended service at the Christian Church at that place Tuesday afternoon, and while sitting in the congregation singing suddenly fell over upon the pew and expired almost instantly. The deceased was the father of Prof. Nunn who formerly taught school at Bagdad.

Returning to Life.

Last week it was thought that Major H. T. Stanton was so desperately ill that he could not possibly recover, but a change for the better came and his condition has steadily improved until he is now able to sit up for a short while at a time, much to the delight of his family and a host of friends all over the State.

Will Have the Fence.

The Board of Education let the contract for putting up a neat iron fence in front of the Public School property on Second street, at the meeting Tuesday night, to Messrs. Fuss & Co., of Springfield, Ohio. At the same meeting the Board, by a vote of 3 to 3, refused to purchase a piano for use in the Colored Public School.

Base Ball.

A good game of base ball was played at Thorn Hill Park last Saturday between the State College and local teams, which the home boys won handily. The features of the game were Sherley Wintersmith's fine playing at short and some beautiful fly catches by Lindsey Hale in left. The battery work of Staggs and Wiard was all that could be desired. The college boys also made some fine plays but they were a trifle out-classed.

HAS NOT FORGOTTEN HIS CUNNING.

Pen Merchant pitched his first game for the Greenville, Miss., club on Thursday of last week, against the Columbus club, and won it by a score of 7 to 5. He held the Columbus club down to seven hits, and they made their runs in the first two innings, before he had settled down to work.

Like a Seive.

The chief function of the kidneys is to separate from the blood, in its passage through them, of certain impurities and waste particles which make their final exit through the bladder. The retention of these, in consequence of inactivity of the kidneys, is productive of Bright's disease, dropsy, diabetes, albuminuria and other maladies with a fatal tendency. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a highly sanctioned diuretic and blood purifier, impels the kidneys when enervated to remove their sitting function, and strain from the vital current impurities which infect it and strengthen their own resistance as organs of the body. Catarrh of the bladder, gravel and retention of the urine are also maladies arrested or averted by this benign promoter and restorative of organic health. Malaria, rheumatism, constipation, biliousness and dyspepsia also yield to the Bitters, which is also speedily beneficial to the weak and nervous.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT

FRANKFORT, JUNE 15, 1895.

Resolutions of Respect.

The following resolutions on the death of S. Sebastian Paine were offered by the committee appointed for that purpose and unanimously adopted by the McCreary Guards at the last meeting of the company.

WHEREAS, God, in His all wise providence, having removed from our midst one of our comrades, S. Sebastian Paine, beloved by all, a tried and worthy soldier, it becomes us as members of the McCreary Guards to express our appreciation of his worth as a gentleman, citizen, and soldier, to tender our sympathy to his grief-stricken mother, father and many friends.

"Our loss is but Heaven's gain," therefore be it,

Resolved, That these resolutions be published in the city papers and the same spread upon the minutes of the company, and a copy sent to his parents.

Resolved, That the armory be draped in mourning for sixty days.

A. T. KIRKLEY, 2d Lieut.
C. T. THOMPSON, Serg't.
HOWARD GLORE, Private.
Committee.

How to Live.

The following notice, clipped from the Yorkville, South Carolina, Enquirer, may be of interest to the many friends of the gentleman referred to in this city.

Rev. W. G. Neville returned to Yorkville last Wednesday night from Greenville. He preached the baccalaureate sermon before the students of the Presbyterian Female Seminary, in the First Presbyterian Church at that place, last Sunday. His text was from Matt. xi, 29-30, and his subject was 'The Solution of the Problem of Life; or How to Live.' The big church was crowded to its full capacity, and the sermon was greatly enjoyed by all present.

Wheat promises a fine yield and will be ready for the harvest in ten days.

The schools at Jett's have closed for the summer vacation. Miss Hearn's school closed with a picnic, and Mrs. E. L. South's Excelsior Institute with a brilliant entertainment.

The hogs of Mr. Wash Crutcher have been dying with cholera, but he secured the services of Dr. Hudson, of Lexington, and they are doing well. Hudson can certainly cure the disease, as several of our prominent farmers will testify.

All of the political conventions are trying to straddle the silver question. Ah, gentlemen, silver is a high horse, and he who straddles him will be thrown to the ground.

We have lived long enough to learn that no man of any party who lives by politics and politics alone is an honest man. He may not steal a horse, but he will sacrifice principle for position, and we are not sure he would not steal the horse if he might thereby obtain position.

Mr. Jam's Jones, a prominent farming of Fleming county, is visiting his brother, Mr. W. B. Jones, of this place. Mr. Jones reports the crop prospects in his section as being rather discouraging.

We have always heard that much evil is done under the cloak of religion but it takes the A. P. A.'s to stab religion under the cloak of patriotism. There is much of witch-burning puritanism, blue-stocking hypocrisy about that so-called patriotic organization.

JERUSALEM.

What Rev. George Darsie Saw Inside the Holy City.

Thursday Rev. George Darsie left Paris for London, where he arrived yesterday and to-day will sail by North German Lloyd Steamer for New York, where he will arrive next Sunday, but will not be at home until about July 1. In the following letter he tells us what he saw in Jerusalem, where he was from April 20th to 24th:

Jerusalem has a population of 58,500 of which 42,000 are Jews, 8,800 Christians and 7,700 Moslems. Spite of the Turkish Government's edict that no more Jews shall enter Palestine, they are coming in right along. In one way and another the edict is evaded. And they come with a patriotic enthusiasm which makes them citizens of great value. They are introducing new methods of agriculture which already have changed the face of the country around Jerusalem. They bring a spirit of industry and enterprise which this whole country sadly needs. The American Consul said that if the Jewish population were taken away nothing much of value would be left. Even now they constitute three-fourths of the city's inhabitants, and more than three-fourths of its wealth and push. And greater things are yet to come. The tide is increasing every year. The prophecies of Scripture concerning the gathering of Israel to its ancient land seem in process of fulfillment under our very eyes. If in spite of the effort of a hostile government to exclude them, they yet flock hither by thousands, what would they not do if Palestine passed into say English hands and the embargo were not only lifted, but inducements held out to stimulate Jewish immigration? Who knows but something like that may occur and that even in our generation this once goodly land may hail the return of its own people, and by them be made again to rejoice and blossom as a rose? It looks as though this might be the outcome even under the continuance of Turkish rule.

It was a source of pride to me to note the fact that among the books recommended by Baedeker for the study of Jerusalem's topography Dr. J. T. Barclay's "City of the Great King" is mentioned first. He was our missionary to Jerusalem from 1851 to 1855, and while here he gathered material for his valuable volume—the very first intelligent treatise on the topography of this wonderful city. He it was who discovered what is now known as Barclay's Gate, an ancient gate leading to the temple enclosure, now hidden by heaps of rubbish. He also discovered the famous Solomon's Quarries, going down under the city from an entrance on the north side near the Damascus Gate, and from which it is generally believed Solomon obtained the great stones used in building his temple. The painstaking work done by Dr. Barclay laid the foundation for the work of all succeeding explorers in this field, though he has never received the full measure of credit which is due him. And while on the subject I must speak of the gratification it gave me to meet at Nablous (ancient Shechem) with our brother Youhannah El Karey, whom Dr. Barclay converted during his stay in Jerusalem, and baptized in the Pool of Siloam, and who is now employed by the English Baptists to superintend their seven or eight missions in and around Nablous. He delights in the ancient gospel, and told me he is preaching and teaching it without let or hindrance in all the field of his large and varied usefulness. He still cherishes with affection the memory of Dr. Barclay. And his heart is just now set on building a chapel in the ancient city of Samaria (where he has a mission station), for which he needs $500. Any contribution for that purpose sent to him at Nablous, Palestine, would reach him and be wisely expended.

In speaking of Jerusalem it must be borne in mind that the city has been besieged twenty-seven times, and destroyed in whole or in part seven times. The present walls were built only a little more than three hundred years ago, and the modern Jerusalem stands on an average about thirty-five feet above the ancient city. Hence the difficulty of identifying the exact places where the events of its great history transpired, and hence the folly and falsity of a majority of its pretended sacred sites. The Tower of David just inside the Joppa gate, and the Jews' Walling Place on the west side of the temple area, are about the only pieces of ancient masonry in the city. But it is only the lower portion of the tower that is old and there is no real good reason to believe that it goes clear back to David. The Walling Place no doubt goes back to Solomon's time, since the Jewish bevel on the rocks and the peculiarities of the masonry belong to an early period. It was a sight I had long desired to see, and it moved me deeply, the Jews gathering at this ancient wall to mourn the desolation of their city and to read the lxxix Psalm, "O God, the heathen are come to thine inheritance; thy holy temple have they defiled," etc. But what I heard could hardly be called a wall, for it was done in a very quiet, almost inaudible voice, and though I watched closely I did not see a single tear fall. Perhaps as they see the prospect of a speedy return increasing, the Jews do not feel the need of wailing quite so loud as formerly.

The Haram or the site of the Temple is of course the most interesting spot in Jerusalem. This is the ancient Moriah where Abraham, obedient to the voice of God, came to offer up Isaac. Here was the threshing floor of Araunah, which David purchased, and on which he offered sacrifice to stay the hand of the destroying angel as it stood over Jerusalem with drawn sword. Here Solomon reared his gorgeous temple and set up the altar of sacrifice, and here in turn stood the succeeding temples which gathered the hosts of Israel to their yearly feasts, and constituted the center of their religious life. Here Jesus himself taught the people and hither came the early church to worship and to hear the preaching of the apostles. The temple area occupies one-sixth part of the city and embraces thirty-five acres in all. The Mosque El Aska on its southern border was once a church, and underneath it are found those immense semi-circular vaults known as Solomon's stables. Whether ever used as such we of course do not know, though of this we can be quite sure that they were originally built in order to level up that part of the temple area. The Dome of the Rock, sometimes called the Mosque of Omar, stands right on the spot the Jewish temple occupied, and only with slippers over our shoes could we enter. The great rock it covers is fifty-seven feet long by forty-three feet wide and rises six and one-half feet above the surrounding pavement. The Muslims believe it stands poised in mid-air without any support under it, and that the "well of souls" is beneath it, where the souls of the dead assembled to pray twice every week. Mohammed declared that one prayer offered here was better than a thousand elsewhere. And here it is asserted that he ascended to heaven, which the rock as also assaying to do was held back by the angel Gabriel; and if you doubt the story, there is the print of the angel's hand on the rock to rebuke your unbelief! But there is no doubt of the fact that the large hole in one end of the rock was the location of the brazen altar, and that it marks the opening into the underground sewer which carried away the blood and offal of the myriad sacrifices offered on it. Knowing the dimensions of the holy and most holy places. It is not difficult to locate them also within and near the building and to picture the scene presented to the eye long before the Mohammedan set foot on this sacred spot.

So far I have spoken of genuinely ancient things in Jerusalem. To them I might add the recently discovered Pool of Bethesda, just north of the temple area, down under heaps of rubbish, and having five porches according to the description of John v. 2. Possibly also I should add the tomb of David on Mount Zion, which of course no one is allowed to see, and which may or may not be the identical locality referred to by the Apostle Peter, Acts ii:29. But all else that is shown you in Jerusalem is either uncertain tradition or flat contradiction of Scripture. To the former category belongs Caiaphas' palace and its pretended sites of Jesus' trial, Peter's denial and so on; the Cenaculum where Jesus is said to have eaten his last supper with the disciples; Pilate's Judgment hall and the Ecce Homo arch, though tradition in this case is probably not far from the true location, the Via Dolorosa and its fourteen stations where Jesus rested as he bore his cross from Pilate's Judgment Hall to Golgotha. To the latter category, that of flat contradiction of Scripture, may be assigned the so-called Church of the Holy Sepulcher. We are told that Jesus suffered without the gates of the city, and was buried in a garden near by. Yet here within not only the present walls, but within all the ancient walls of Jerusalem, judging by every decisive indication, has tradition fixed the place of our Saviour's passion and burial. And the various spots, connected with that tragic scene, are definitely marked out, covered by chapels dimly lighted with tapers and made redolent of perpetual incense. Here are crowds of adoring worshippers on all sides of you, bowing down to every thing they come to, kissing every supposed sacred relic, and doing the devotional with a zeal that you would appreciate more if it only had a little knowledge mixed with it. Yonder is the tomb of Adam to start with. That of course is genuine! Right over it was the scene of the crucifixion. To your left is the stone slab where the body of Christ was unanointed for burial. Farther along stood Mary his mother, entirely too far away to be spoken to by him. Around the corner stood the centurion who said, "Surely this was the Son of God."

Near by is the place where the crown of thorns was made. And again the spot where the soldiers cast lots for Christ's seamless robe. Down in a deep cavern is pointed out the locality where Queen Helena found the true cross, and overlooking it the seat in which she sat while directing the workmen in making their excavations. But most sacred of all is the holy rock, now a good deal worn away by kisses, where Christ was buried. It was indeed quite solemn as we filed into it one by one, to see the reverent look on the faces of those in charge and to realize how old is the tradition of this location and how many are the people who believe that this is the real site where our Lord lay. Perhaps the worst piece of superstition connected with the church of the Holy Sepulcher is the belief that every Easter day the sacred fire descends from heaven to this spot; and the struggling mass of people who surround the window where the hood-winking priest hands it out to them, often trample each other down in the silly effort to obtain it first. The church of the Holy Sepulcher, from first to last, is in my opinion the biggest humbug to be found in or around Jerusalem.

Before closing I must say a word or two in regard to the streets of the city. Their narrowness is a matter of course, but their filthiness passes conception. Jerusalem in the matter of smells exceeds any city it has ever been my lot to enter. There is nothing it needs half so much as a thorough scrubbing. If a big river could be turned into it for two or three weeks and could wash away the accumulated filth of centuries, it would be of all things the most desirable. If a new administration ever comes in, I think the first thing it will do will be to provide for the cleanliness of the city.

And yet, foul as it is, our hearts clung to the dear old place, and we felt pangs of regret in going away from the depository of so many holy memories and so many elevating inspirations. And we could all truly say, "If I forget thee, O Jerusalem, let my right hand forget her cunning, and my tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth."

GEORGE DARSIE.

THE NEW F. F. V. LIMITED

Commencing Sunday, May 13th, the F. F. V. Limited will leave Cincinnati daily at 12:20 noon, arriving at Washington at 7:40 a. m., Baltimore 9:00 a. m., Philadelphia 11:20 a. m. and New York 1:40 p. m. The train will consist of Composite Car, Elegant Day Coach, with Smoking Compartment, Dining Car, Pullman Sleeping Cars of the latest and most improved design, and an Observation Car. Emphasis is especially placed on the Observation Car. Built by the Pullman Company from Chesapeake and Ohio plans, the F. F. V. Observation Cars serve their purpose better than any others that have ever been constructed.

As the F. F. V. Limited is the only train having an Observation Car attached, it necessarily follows that the Chesapeake and Ohio R'y alone has scenery interesting enough to demand an Observation Car. The F. F. V. Limited is the only train running through from Cincinnati to New York that enables the business men to transact business in Cincinnati one day and New York the next. It is the only train for Jersey City Coast resorts, which are reached by the F. F. V. at dinner time instead of in the evening. It is the only train that enables business men to transact business in Cincinnati one day and reach Washington for breakfast the next morning. It is the most desirable train for New England resorts, connections being made in the Union Depot in Washington with the Colonial Express running through to Boston which reaches New Haven 4:10 p. m., New London 5:30 p. m., Providence 7:15 p. m. and Boston 8:30 p. m. The F. F. V. is the only modern train lighted throughout with Electricity, carrying a Dining Car and an Observation Car.

The Washington and Atlantic Express, also an Electric Lighted Vestibuled train, will leave Cincinnati at 7:00 p. m., reaching Washington 2:40 p. m. and Old Point Comfort 6:00 a. m. Connection is made at Washington with the Boston Express or the Limited, reaching New York about 9:00 p. m. At Norfolk connection is made with the Old Dominion Steamship Line, reaching New York 3:00 p. m. the next day.

Mr. D. C. Crutcher, One of the Most Enterprising Merchants Doing Business Here,

Has Purchased a Mammoth Stock of Splendid Goods for the Fall Trade,

And Will be Found at His Old Stand for Years to Come.

If any one has been under the impression that the only original D. C. Crutcher, the enterprising clothier and dealer in boots, and shoes, is going to leave Frankfort he is laboring under a misapprehension, for that gentleman is not only going to remain here, but is making arrangements to do a larger business than ever, handling a finer line of goods than has ever before been offered to this community. As evidence of which, we give below the substance of a conversation the ROUNDABOUT had yesterday morning with three commercial evangelists, representing three of the leading clothing houses in the United States, viz: Mr. John A. Faust, one of the firm of Feshheimer, Fishel & Co., of New York, Mr. Oscar R. Taylor, representing Hackett, Carhart & Co., and Mr. S. Uhlman, representing Naumburg, Krauss & Co., of the same city. These gentlemen made a special trip to this city to sell Mr. Crutcher his fall stock, and their lines are known throughout the entire country as being the highest grade of goods in the cloth trade. They stated that Mr. Crutcher had decided to purchase for the coming season one of the largest and most elaborate stocks of goods which, during an experience of twenty-five years, they have ever known to be sold in this section. For taste in selection and elegance of style it is unsurpassed. They said they admired Mr. Crutcher's foresight in ordering such a stock, as it requires considerable nerve at this time to do so, but that he is in touch with the rebound of the times, is confident that business prosperity is coming in the near future and is but preparing to meet it, by having an elegant stock of higher grade of goods than has ever been shown in this market on hand. Mr. Taylor said the line of children's goods carried by Hackett, Carhart & Co. is known the world over, that his house has three retail stores on Broadway, New York, in which these goods were sold, and that

Mr. Crutcher had purchased as fine a line as is carried in either of these houses. Thus it will be seen that our own Dallas has the business sagacity to foresee the good times coming and the 'get-up-and-get' to be ready to take the crest of the wave when it strikes and sail on to prosperity.

Frankfort needs more of such enterprising merchants to put life into the sluggish veins of business and make things hum—men who are not afraid to "reach out and lead" and blaze the way for their slow going neighbors.

Matrimonial.

LUTKEMEIER-SOWER—Mr. Frank J. Lutkemeier, of this city, and Miss Katie E. Sower, of Brazil, Indiana, were married at the Catholic Church in that place Thursday morning. PALIN-WHITE—Mr. James M. Palin, of Georgia, and Mrs. Nannie White, of this city, were married Tuesday afternoon. The bride has for several months been the assistant operator in the telephone exchange, having come here from Lexington to take the position. The newly wedded pair left Wednesday for their future home in Atlanta.

CHURCH—Mrs. Mary S. Church died Wednesday morning at 9:20 o'clock at her home near Steadmantown, and her funeral took place yesterday afternoon. The deceased was the widow of the late Capt. Jack Church and a sister of Mr. Campbell Steele, of this city. She was born in Virginia nearly 87 years ago and removed to this county with her parents when but six years of age.

The proceeds will be for the benefit of the band and tickets to the grounds should find a ready sale, for in purchasing a ticket you aid a worthy enterprise. Frankfort should have a first-class band, such as the managers propose to give us, and they ask your encouragement in their efforts.

Money Talks.

Senator William Lindsay spoke at the Opera House Thursday evening upon the subject of Sound Money and Senator J. C. S. Blackburn spoke at the same place last evening upon the subject of Free Silver. Each gentleman had a large crowd and a respectful hearing.

State Teachers' Association.

Teachers and others who want to attend an interesting meeting and enjoy a short visit to the Capital of the Blue Grass country, should make a note of the forthcoming meeting of the Kentucky Educational Association at Lexington, on July 1st, 2nd, and 3rd. The railroads of the State will sell round trip tickets at one fare for the round trip, good until July 5th. This will enable those who so desire to remain in Lexington over the Fourth and attend the Lexington Chautauqua, which has an unusually attractive program for that day, including T. DeWitt Talmage and General John B. Gordon as lecturers. Such a combination is not often found, and no teacher can well afford to miss this meeting.

The program of the Educational Association is full of important topics to be discussed by able speakers. The meetings will be held in the A. and M. College Auditorium, and Lexington will do her best to make the meeting attractive to all who attend. Present indications point to this as the best meeting the Association has had in a long time, and the location, the time, and the program combine to insure success. Every teacher in the State who can possibly do so, ought to attend and take a part in the proceedings and thus help on the great advance movement in education. We trust our section of the State may be fully represented by live wide-awake teachers, for it is only such that attend these educational gatherings and reap the benefits accruing from them.

Excursion to Toronto.

The railroads will give an excursion rate to Toronto, Canada, during the meeting of the Pan-American Congress on July 18th to 25th.

DISSOLUTION.

A FEW weeks of this sale has gone by with gratifying results, the sacrificed values brought throngs of buyers--and they in turn brought others--and thus the carnival of bargains gains in public favor as the hours roll by. Lines of medium and low priced goods, broken and almost depleted by liberal purchasing has been replenished by marking down higher grades and finer qualities to take their place. The dismemberment and dissolution of our firm "COMPELS" us absolutely to continue to the bitter end. This ruthless carnage of destruction of values--this upheaval and upsetting of all preconceived and generally accepted business methods is a case of necessity and not of choice. Messrs. John P. and I. F. Starks (as previously announced) retire from this business July 8th, 1895. Every cash dollar that can be raised by the forced sale of this stock will be raised for the final settlement of affairs on that day.

Bras as a Fertilizer for Wheat.

In a paper read to the Winter Wheat Millers' League in session at Louisville, Kentucky, Wednesday, May 15, 1895, I quoted from a wheat circular of the Ballard Flour mills, Louisville, Ky., on the subject of wheat bras as a fertilizer, and by resolution of the League was requested to revise the same for publication and distribution. We are interested in having our farmer friends raise large crops of fine quality of wheat, and to this end we wish to give them the results of some investigations we have made regarding wheat bras as a fertilizer.

Some years ago, Mr. N. Long, now deceased, a prominent miller, banker and farmer of Russellville, Logan county, Kentucky, used bras as a fertilizer, and the result was astonishing, his yield being 55 bushels per acre.

This year, Mr. John Richards, of Nolin, Hardin county, Kentucky, produced 55 1/2 bushels per acre of magnificent wheat, and as we learned that he had used bras as a fertilizer, we wrote to him for information as to the method adopted by him, and are in receipt of his reply. He says he has been experimenting with different kinds of fertilizers for 25 years in the hope of raising 50 bushels of wheat per acre, and that he has at last succeeded, but that he never did so until he used bras as a fertilizer.

The quality of the wheat is also greatly improved, it being much heavier than any he had ever raised before. Rich soil needs less than poor soil, and he says that 1,200 pounds of bras per acre is the proper amount to use on good land, while from 1,500 to 2,000 pounds on thin land is the correct amount. The bras should be sown broadcast and harrowed in about three weeks before seeding time; this will give the bras time to decompose and become absorbed by the soil. The bras should never be drilled in with the seed.

Mr. Richards writes us that the benefit to the crops from the use of bras is very much more lasting than from any other fertilizer, and that the results are almost as good the second year as the first. But the best plan would be to use the quantity indicated above the first year, and a smaller quantity, say only one half, the second and each succeeding year.

sulphate. After the seed is thoroughly soaked in one of these solutions, spread it out on a floor and sift slacked lime over it. The copper sulphate in one case, and salt in the other, destroy the smut spores and the salt and the lime act as fertilizers, besides strengthening the young plant, better enabling it to resist rust, should it be at the attack. As 8,000,000 smut spores can stand on one square inch of surface, it can readily be appreciated how desirable it is to have them all destroyed before you sow your seed.

The simplest way is to fill a cask with strong brine, put your seed wheat in a basket and dip it into this brine until each grain is covered with a thin crust of salt, then spread it out and sprinkle with lime, allow it to dry, and sow with a drill.

From the above, it will readily be seen that in using bras as a fertilizer, great care should be taken to see that the bras is made from wheat that did not contain any smut.

I would suggest to the farmers of the country that they make an experiment with bras as a fertilizer, adopting the plan as suggested above by Mr. Richards, and it might also be well for them to try different quantities per acre, viz: Prepare one acre and use 500 pounds; another and use 750 pounds; and another and use 1,000 pounds, and still another and use 1,200 pounds.

If they will do this, I am satisfied that the results will amply repay them.

Respectfully submitted,

CHAS. T. BALLARD.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years it was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.
